Revocable transfer on death designation of successor owner at death of primary owners: Mark J. Tolliver and Jean A. Tolliver, the owners of this property, being of competent mind and capacity, each retaining the right to revoke this designation at any time before death, state that upon the death of both of them, this property shall pass to the revocable living trust of the last owner to die, i.e. either the Mark J. Tolliver Trust dated July 18, 1996 or the Jean A. Tolliver Trust dated July 18, 1996, in care of the then acting trustee to act under the powers granted to the trustee or successor trustee in that trust. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Transactions: As to this property, the trustee may buy, sell (at a public or private sale), exchange, rent, convey, partition, subdivide, accept title, create conditions, grant easements, convey, assign, lease, hold, possess, maintain, repair, improve, manage, operate, insure, release rights of homestead, create land trusts and exercise all land trust powers. The trustee may collect rents, sale proceeds, and other revenue from it. For real estate taxes and assessments, the trustee may pay, contest, protest, and compromise. Any sale or lease may be for terms that extend beyond the trust duration and may include a portion of the real estate such as mineral rights and easements.
- Construct and demolish: The trustee may improve or alter the property. This includes repairs, maintenance, demolition, and extraordinary changes to the property such as removing existing or erecting party walls or buildings.
- Partition: The trustee may partition, develop, subdivide, or dedicate the property to public use. This includes making, vacating, partitioning, and changing plats and boundaries and creating restrictions, easements or other servitudes.
- Abandonment: The trustee may abandon and/or retain the property even if productive, underproductive or nonproductive.
- Non productive property: The trustee may retain the property even if it is nonproductive. In the exercise of reasonable business judgment, the trustee may abandon assets.

- 6. Overall powers of trustee: The trustee is given all the rights, powers, and authority to manage and control the property so as to accomplish the trust purposes that an individual owner would have if there was no trust and the trustee was acting as a competent individual owner.
- 7. Interest of a trust beneficiary: The interest of each trust beneficiary (and anyone claiming through the beneficiary) is declared to be personal property only. No trust beneficiary has any legal or equitable title interest in this real estate. No interest of a trust beneficiary is subject to transfer, assignment, anticipation, pledge, seizure by legal process, claims of the beneficiary's creditors, claims for maintenance, or claims for support of the beneficiary's spouse. The trustee may reject any such claim.
