Such appointment may be made either before or after sale, without notice, without regard to the solvency or insolvency at the time of application for such receiver, of the person or persons liable for the payment of the indebtedness secured hereby, and without regard to the then value of the premises or whether the same shall be then occupied as a homestead or not and the Trustee hereunder may be appointed as such receiver. Such receiver shall have power to collect the rents, issues and profits of said premises during the pendency of such foreclosure suit and, in case of a sale and a deficiency, during the full statutory period of redemption, whether there be redemption or not, as well as during any further times when First Party, its successors or assigns, except for the intervention of such receiver, would be entitled to collect such rents, issues and profits, and all other powers which may be necessary or are usual in such cases for the protection, possession, control, management and operation of the premises during the whole of said period. As taxes and assessments become due and payable and as insurance policies expire, or premiums thereon become due, the trustee or holder of the notes is authorized to use such deposits for the purpose of paying taxes or assessments, or renewing insurance policies or paying premiums thereon, and in the event any deficit shall exist in the amount of such deposits, First Party, its successors or assigns, agree to pay any difference forthwith. In the event of any default hereunder on the part of First Party, Trustee or the holder of the notes may at its option, without being required to do so, apply any monies on deposit hereunder, on any of the obligations of First Party, its successors or assigns, herein or in the notes, in such manner as Trustee or the holder of the notes may elect.
