(b) the payment of rent or other monetary obligation under the Lease and should such default continue uncured by Assignee for [twenty (20)] * days after receipt by Assignee of written notice thereof from Landlord; or

(c) any covenant or agreement under the Lease which does not involve the payment of money to Landlord and should such default continue uncured by Assignee for [twenty (20)] * days after receipt by Assignee of written notice thereof from Landlord, or if the default is of a type which is not reasonably possible to cure within [twenty (20)] * days, if Assignee has not commenced to cure such default within said [twenty (20)] * day period and does not thereafter diligently prosecute the curing of such default to completion, then in the event the default of Assignee is of a type reasonably possible for Assignee to cure, and provided Assignee is not contesting such claimed default by actions reasonably acceptable to Assignor, Assignor shall have the right, but not the obligation, to cure any such default on behalf of Assignee and Assignee hereby irrevocably appoints Assignor as its agent and attorney-in-fact for the purpose of curing such default and executing all instruments and taking all actions that may be reasonably necessary or appropriate to cure such default. Following such cure, Assignor shall give Assignee written notice of the expenses incurred by Assignor in connection with such default and the curing thereof and shall include with such notice reasonable evidence supporting such expenses, and Assignee shall reimburse Assignor * in the event that the grace period therefor allowed under the Lease is less than twenty-five (25) days, then the time period allowed herein (in the bracketed portion) shall be deemed to be a period of time which is five (5) days less than the grace period allowed therefor under the Lease but in no event shall such period be less than five (5) days.

within twenty (20) days after Assignee's receipt of such notice for all expenses (including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by Assignor in connection with such default and the curing thereof. In the event Assignee fails to so reimburse Assignor within said twenty (20) day period, then, forthwith following Assignee's receipt of the written request of Assignor, Assignee shall assign the lease to Assignor by written assignment in recordable form at no consideration and deliver to Assignor possession of the premises demised by the lease and Assignee hereby irrevocably appoints Assignor as its agent and attorney-in-fact for the purpose of executing and delivering such assignment in the event that Assignee has not executed and delivered such assignment to Assignor forthwith following assignment in the event that Assignor and Assignee each agree to give the other immediate written notice of any notice of default received from Landlord, with a copy of such notice of default.

7. Assignee acknowledges and agrees that the interest assigned to it hereby is subject to and together with all of the rights, interests, obligations and duties of Assignor under, pursuant to and as provided in the documents listed in Exhibit C, attached hereto and incorporated by reference herein. Assignee, for the benefit of Assignor, agrees to perform each and all of the obligations of Assignor pursuant to such documents and to comply with the terms and provisions of such documents which are applicable to the tenant under the lease in each case arising on or after the Effective Date.
