INCREASES OR DECREASES IN AGREED RATE OF CHARGE. Borrower's agreed rate of Charge will now increase or decrease by increments of 1/2% per annum, starting January 1, 1993, and on each adjustment date by adding 1/2% to the previous adjustment date's rate. The agreed rate of Charge will be increased until the initial adjustment date is reached by adding 3.192%. Which is the "adjustment dates" of this loan. On the adjustment date the new agreed rate of Charge will be established and will equal the previous rate plus the rate spread rounded to the second decimal point. Thus, on the initial adjustment date, the new rate of charge will be equal to the agreed rate of Charge plus the index rate plus an increase or decrease of the index rate from the initial adjustment date to the new agreed rate of Charge. If after the initial adjustment date the index rate increases to 17.00%, if, on the next adjustment date, the rate spread would be 5.00%, the agreed rate of Charge would be 15.00%.
