B. The Index.

Beginning on the first Change Date, my Annual Percentage Rate will be based on the Index. The "Index" is the weekly average yield on United States Treasury securities adjusted to a constant maturity of one year, as published by the Federal Reserve Board in its weekly Statistical Report (H.15). The Index also is published each Tuesday in the Key Interest Rates table of The Wall Street Journal. The most recent Index figure published by the Federal Reserve Board as of the date 45 days before each Change Date is called the "Current Index."

If the Index is no longer available or is substantially altered in its calculation, you may choose a new index which is based upon comparable information and/or adjust the Margin. You will give me notice of any substitute index or
