offset provisions of Section 6102 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and IL. Rev. Stat. (1985), ch. 15, Par. 210.05a, as amended. Such arrearage shall be considered as "past due" or "due and payable" within the meaning of said statutory provisions. This order does not preclude the placing of a lien on real and personal assets or initiating a proceeding for garnishment, attachment or sequestration pursuant to law and the Code of Civil Procedure.

B. Medical

Obligors ordered to provide health insurance through their employment or by purchasing a independent policy become obligated for the dollar amount of the premiums as an additional child support obligation owed by the Obligor. The Obligor may be liable to the Obligee for the dollar amount of the premiums not paid as well as all medical expenses incurred by the minor child(ren) which would have been paid or reimbursed by the health insurance which Obligor was ordered to provide or maintain. Failure to provide health insurance if ordered and give notice of such coverage to the Obligee and Public Office within the 30 days may be punishable by contempt.

Where Obligor has indicated his/her employer has no health insurance plan available and no independent insurance coverage has been ordered but the employer later makes available a health insurance plan the Obligor shall immediately undertake to enroll his or her Dependents in such plan and authorize his/her employer to withhold the obligors share of premiums from his/her pay and pay over such sums to the insurance carrier. Obligor shall immediately notify the Obligee or custodial parent and the Public Office of the names of the Dependents covered by the Insurance and the effective date of such coverage.

The provisions relating to premiums as an additional amount of child support described above apply to this situation.

F. Interest

Any new or existing support order shall be deemed to be a series of judgments against the Obligor. Each such judgment shall have the full force, effect and attributes of any other judgment of this State, including the ability to be enforced. Every judgment arising by operation of law from a child support order shall bear interest (currently 9%) as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, IL. Rev. Stat. (1985), Ch. 110, Sec. 2-1303, commencing 30 days from the effective date of each such judgment.
