4. A grantee may terminate the agreement if the grantor fails to pay the amount of the principal or interest when due or fails to make any payment required by the agreement.

debt service, or at a later date, and to secure another amount of amounts that may be added to the mortgage indebtedness under the terms of this mortgage contract.

D. That in case of failure to perform any of the covenants herein, the Lender may do an foreclosure upon the Mortgaged property or repossess the same and may do an attorney's fee and other expenses of collection, including reasonable attorney's fees.

These arrangements are often referred to as collateralized debt obligations (CDOs). They are structured like a pyramid, with the most senior tranches being AAA-rated and the least senior tranches being BBB-rated or lower. The senior tranches receive a fixed return, while the junior tranches receive a variable return based on the performance of the underlying assets. This structure allows investors to diversify their risk by investing in different tranches of the CDO.
