Section 3-4 of the Illinois Statutory Short Form Power of Attorney for Property Law

Section 3-4. Explanation of powers granted in the statutory short form power of attorney for property. This Section defines each category of powers listed in the statutory short form power of attorney for property, and the effect of granting powers to an agent. When the title of any of the following categories is retained (not struck out) in a statutory property power form, the effect will be to grant the agent all of the principal's rights, powers and discretions with respect to the items of property and transactions covered by the retained category, subject to any limitations on the granted powers that appear on the face of the form. The agent will have authority to exercise each granted power for and in the name of the principal with respect to all of the principal's interests in every type of property or transaction covered by the granted power or the time of exercise, whether the principal's interests are direct or indirect, private or public, legal or equitable, as a principal, agent, trustee, co-trustee, or holder in any other form, but the agent will not have power under any of the statutory categories to "designate" to make part of the principal's power to exercise powers to appoint to others or to change any beneficiary when the principal has designated to take the principal's interests of death under any will, trust, or other form of testamentary arrangement. The agent will be under no duty to exercise granted powers or to assume the control of or responsibility for the principal's property or affairs, but when granted powers are exercised, the agent will be required to use due care to act for the benefit of the principal in accordance with the terms of the statutory property power and will be liable for negligent exercise. The agent may act in person or through others reasonably employed by the agent for that purpose and will have authority to sign and deliver all instruments, negotiate and enter into all agreements and do all other acts reasonably necessary to implement the exercise of the powers granted to the agent.

a. Real estate transactions. The agent is authorized to buy, sell, exchange, rent and lease real estate (which term includes, without limitation, real estate subject to a land trust and all beneficial interests in and powers of direction under any land trust), collect all rents, sue for rents and earnings from real estate, convey, assign and transfer title to real estate, grant easements, create conditions and release rights of homestead with respect to real estate, create land trusts and exercise all powers under land trusts, hold possessory interest, repair, improve, subdivide, manage, operate and insure real estate, pay, collect, protect and compromise real estate taxes and assessments and, in general, exercise all powers with respect to real estate which the principal could if present and under no disability.

b. Financial institution transactions. The agent is authorized to open, close, continue and control all accounts and deposits in any type of financial institution (which term includes, without limitation, banks, trust companies, savings and building and loan associations, credit unions and brokerage firms), deposit in and withdraw from and write checks on any financial institution account or deposit, and, in general, exercise all powers with respect to financial institution transactions which the principal could if present and under no disability.

c. Stock and bond transactions. The agent is authorized to buy and sell all types of securities (which term includes, without limitation, stocks, bonds, mutual funds and all other types of investment securities and financial instruments), collect, hold and distribute dividends, collect earnings, proceed if sale, cash, transfer, share certificates and other evidences of ownership held or distributed with respect to securities, exercise all voting rights with respect to securities in person or by proxy, enter into voting trusts and consent to limitations on the right to vote, and, in general, exercise all powers with respect to securities which the principal could if present and under no disability.

(c) All other proprietary powers and transactions. The agent is authorized to exercise all possible powers of the principal with respect to all possible kinds of property and interests in property, except as the owner, the principal, or his agent, specifies.

(m) Downgrading representations The agent is authorized to borrow money, negotiate a pledge any real estate or tangible or intangible property as security for such creditors, sign, draw, execute and satisfy any notes of other creditors of obligee, and, in general, exercise all powers which may be necessary to secure and unsecure borrowing which the bank may need; and, under no disability

Community and option iron-sulfur proteins are also involved in the new pathway leading to the generation of hydrogen sulfide. The first step in this pathway is the reduction of elemental sulfur by the enzyme adenylyl-activated sulfur reductase (AASR), which converts elemental sulfur to thiosulfate. This reaction is catalyzed by adenylyl-activated sulfur reductase (AASR), which converts elemental sulfur to thiosulfate. The second step is the reduction of thiosulfate by the enzyme adenylyl-activated sulfur reductase (AASR), which converts thiosulfate to sulfide. The third step is the reduction of sulfide by the enzyme adenylyl-activated sulfur reductase (AASR), which converts sulfide to hydrogen sulfide.
