If you are in a similar situation, the first step is to determine whether or not your state has a law that protects you from being sued for libel or slander. If such a law exists, it will likely provide a defense to your claim. In addition, you may be able to file a complaint against the person who made the statement, seeking damages for defamation. It is important to consult with a lawyer before taking any legal action, as the laws regarding libel and slander can be complex and vary by state.
