- (3) The Note provides for an initial interest rate of 9.75 %. The Note provides for changes in the interest rate, as follows:

A. Variable Rate.

The Annual Percentage Rate and the corresponding daily periodic rate may increase or (see case monthly if the value of the Index changes. The Annual Percentage Rate includes only interest and not other charges

B. Change Dates.

The Annual Percentage Rate may change on the first day of each month beginning January 1, 1996

D. Calculation of the Copy

On each Change Date you will add 100 basis points (1,00 percentage points, called the "Margin") to the Current Index. The result will be my new Annual Percentage Rate, but will be subject to the limitations set forth in Subparagraph E. below.

E. Limits On Changes.

The Annual Percentage Rate will not increase above the maximum legally permissible rate. In addition, my ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE will not increase above 14.0% or below 7.5%. During any one calendar year my Annual Percentage Rate will not increase or decrease such that the Payment Calculation Rate increases or decreases more than one level as shown in the payment chart in the Note. My Annual Percentage Rate as of January 1 can increase during the year to the highest Annual Percentage Rate in the next highest level, but cannot go higher during the year. My Annual Percentage Rate as of January 1 can decrease during the year to the lowest Annual Percentage Rate in the next lowest level, but cannot go lower during the year. This restricts the change in my Annual Percentage Rate during any one calendar year to 3.99 percentage points.

F. Effect of Change.

An increase in the Annual Percentage Rate either will result in higher payments, if my Annual Percentage Rate increases to the next level shown on the payment chart, or will result in a smaller portion of my payments going to repay principal, which will mean that my unpaid principal balance will be repaid slower. A decrease in my Annual Percentage Rate either will result in lower payments, if my Annual Percentage Rate decreases to a lower level shown on the payment will result in more of my payments going to repay principal, which will mean that my unpaid principal balance will be repaid more rapidly.
