The agent may act in person or through others reasonably employed by the agent for that purpose and will have authority to sign and be a party to others' negotiable and other mutual agreements and to other acts reasonably necessary to implement the exercise of the powers granted to the agent.

3. Real estate transactions. The agent is authorized to buy, sell, exchange, rent and lease real estate, which term includes without limitation, real estate subject to a mortgage or other security interests, and powers of attorney under law, and may collect rents, seize proceeds and earnings from real estate, convey, assign and perfect title to real estate, grant easements, create conditions or release rights of homestead with respect to real estate, create land trusts and exercise all powers under ordinances held possessory rights, receive, hold or manage, locate and insure real estate, pay, contest, protest and compromise real estate taxes and assessments, and, in general, exercise all powers with respect to real estate which the principal could do, if present, and, under no account,

b. Financial institution transactions. The agent is authorized to open, close, continue and control all accounts and deposits in any type of financial institution which term includes without limitation, bank trust companies, savings and building and loan associations, credit unions and brokerage firms.
