He was the son of a knight-errant who had been captured by the Saracens and brought up in their camp. When he grew up he became a knight-errant and was known as Ask Feket. He was a great friend of the Saracen king, Alfonso, and often went to his court. One day he was sent on a mission to the court of the Christian king, Alfonso, to bring him news of the Saracen king's death. But when he arrived at the court he was captured by the Christians and taken to prison. There he was tortured and made to confess that he was a traitor to the Saracen king. He was then executed. His body was buried in a church in Toledo.

13. REMEDIES UPON DEFAULT: Upon the occurrence of any of the events of default set forth in this Mortgage, at the sole option of Mortgagor, the note and/or any other liabilities shall become immediately due and payable and Mortgagor shall pay all expenses of Mortgagor including attorneys' and paralegal's fees and all expense incurred in connection with this Mortgage and all expenses incurred in the enforcement of Mortgagor's rights in the Premises and other costs incurred in connection with the disposition of the Premises. When the indebtedness secured hereby shall become due whether by acceleration or otherwise, Mortgagor shall have the right to foreclose the lien of this Mortgage. In any suit to foreclose the lien of this Mortgage, there shall be allowed and included as additional indebtedness in the judgment of foreclosing all expenditures and expenses which may be paid or incurred by or on behalf of Mortgagor for attorneys' and paralegal's fees, appraisers' fees, outlays for documentary and expert evidence, stenograph charges, publication costs and costs of procuring all abstracts of title, title searches and examinations, title insurance policies, attorney certificates, tax and lien searches, and similar data and assurances with respect to title as Mortgagor may deem to be reasonably necessary either to prosecute the foreclosing suit or to evidence to bidders at any foreclosure sale. All of the foregoing items, which may be expended after entry of the foreclosure judgment, may be estimated by Mortgagor. All expenditures and expenses mentioned in this paragraph, when incurred or paid by Mortgagor shall become additional indebtedness secured hereby and shall be immediately due and payable with interest thereon at a rate equivalent to the post maturity interest rate set forth in the note. This paragraph shall also apply to any expenditures or expenses incurred or paid by Mortgagor or on behalf of Mortgagor in connection with (a) any proceeding, including without limitation, probate and bankruptcy proceedings, to which Mortgagor shall be a party, either as plaintiff, claimant or defendant, by reason of this Mortgage or any indebtedness secured hereby; or (b) any preparation for the commencement of any suit for the foreclosure of this Mortgage after accrual of the right to foreclose whether or not actually commenced or preparation for the commencement of any suit to collect upon or enforce the provisions of the note or any instrument which secures the note after default, whether or not actually commenced, or (c) any preparation for the defense of any threatened suit or proceeding which might affect the Premises or the security hereof, whether or not actually commenced. The proceeds of any foreclosure sale shall be distributed and applied in the following order of priority: first, on account of all costs and expenses incident to the foreclosure proceedings, including all the items that are above mentioned; second, all other items which under the terms of this Mortgage constitute indebtedness secured by this Mortgage additional to that evidenced by the note, with interest thereon as herein provided; third, all principal and interest remaining unpaid on the note and the liabilities (first to interest and then to principal); fourth, any surplus to Mortgagor or Mortgagor's heirs, legal representatives, successors or assigns, as their rights may appear. Upon, or at any time after the filing of a complaint to foreclose this Mortgage, the court in which such suit is filed may appoint a receiver of the Premises. The receiver's appointment may be made either before or after entry of judgment of foreclosure, without notice, without regard to the solvency or insolvency of Mortgagor at the time of application for the receiver and without regard to the then value of the Premises or whether the Premises shall be then occupied as a homestead or not. Mortgagor may be appointed as the receiver. Such receiver shall have power to collect the rents, issues and profits of the Premises during the pendency of the foreclosure suit and, in case of an entry of judgment of foreclosure, during the full statutory period of redemption, if any, whether there be redemption or not, as well as during any further times when Mortgagor, except for the intervention of the receiver, would be entitled to collect the rents, issues and profits. Such receiver shall also have all other powers which may be necessary or are usual for the protection, possession, control, management and operation of the Premises. The court in which the foreclosure suit is filed may from time to time authorize the receiver to apply the net income in the receiver's hands in payment in whole or in part of the indebtedness secured hereby, or secured by any judgment foreclosing this Mortgage, or any tax, special assessment or other lien or encumbrance which may be or become superior to the lien hereof or of the judgment, and the deficiency judgment against Mortgagor or any guarantor of the note in case of a foreclosure sale and deficiency. No action for the enforcement of the lien or of any provision of this Mortgage shall be subject to any defense which would not be good and available to the party interposing the same in an action which would not be good and available to the party interposing the same in an action at law upon the note.

of the other publications, others also argue that this approach fails to perform as well as the traditional approach. In addition, it has been argued that the traditional approach is more effective than the new approach in the treatment of patients with depression.

Another argument against the new approach is that it does not take into account the individual differences between patients. For example, some patients may respond better to one type of treatment than to another, while others may respond better to a different type of treatment. This is an important consideration because it can lead to better outcomes for patients if they receive the most appropriate treatment for their individual needs.

In conclusion, the new approach to the treatment of depression has shown promise in preliminary studies, but more research is needed to determine its effectiveness in real-world settings. It is also important to consider individual differences when selecting a treatment for a particular patient.
